Synopsis

"I am just an ordinary man with faith in the extraordinary God and by His power working in me and through me, extraordinary things are accomplished!"

In 2004, Harold Cameron was diagnosed with two brain tumors. In an instant, his life changed drastically.

Rather than wallow in depression and self-pity, Harold mustered every ounce of hope and faith and love that was within him.

The result is a plan. Despite all the odds, Harold is going to fight brain tumors and spread his message of hope, faith, and love the only way he knows how: By walking across America and back.

This is not the story of a hero. It's not the story of a saint or a martyr.

This is the story of Harold Cameron — an ordinary man with faith in the extraordinary God.

This is why he walks.

Author Statement

This book is all about why I walk the walk and talk the talk I do today. Although this book is about me, my life, and my walk — literally and spiritually — across America and back, it is not because of me or anything that I have done that I am able to write it. In other words. I cannot nor will I take the credit for this book. God and his son Jesus Christ get all the "credit."

Marketing and Promotion

Beginning on April 2, 2011, Harold Cameron will begin walking across the United States. Along the way, he will be speaking at various churches, libraries, and community centers, spreading his message of hope, faith, and love.
